THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE

I congratulate the members of the Prince Albert Golf Club for their efforts in obtaining and sponsoring the 1961 Provincial Golf Tournament.

Since the last Provincial Tournament held in Prince Albert our course has been improved by the addition of watered fairways and I am sure that this will add greatly to the success of the tournament and the enjoyment of the game by all taking part.

To the visitors I extend a warm and cordial welcome and to all participants I extend greetings, good golfing and good sportsmanship.

JOHN M. CUELENAERE,
Mayor.

A PRO ON FUNDAMENTALS

"The more I play, the more I'm beginning to realize how important the simple fundamentals of golf are.

"The three fundamentals of golf are grip, stance and balance. Those are the primary things you'd teach any beginner.

Any time I play bad, or anyone else, the fault can be traced to one of those three points. If the average person would work on those three, he'd improve every year.

"For instance, I have a bad habit of letting my left hand get weak on the shaft. I have a tendency to let it turn to the left instead of having the left thumb down the shaft, slightly on the inside.

"As a result, on the backswing, my hand opens up and naturally I lose an element of control. If I get in a bad hitting streak, I get somebody to watch me, checking particularly on my grip on the club at the top of the swing.

"Speaking of the grip, if the club feels good in my hand, I hit the ball good. If it doesn't, the results will be poor"

WELCOME TO PRINCE ALBERT . . .

It is my pleasant duty, on behalf of the Prince Albert Golf Club, to welcome you and your friends to another Saskatchewan Golf Association Amateur Tournament that is being held on our very beautiful course. To many of you, you will see and enjoy, we hope, a large number of improvements such as a good hardwood floor throughout the club house for social evenings, etc; extra canteen space, larger pro shop, floor storage locker room and many other items.

But our greatest and proudest improvement is watered fairways. Add those to a very scenic course with possibly the best greens in Western Canada and a very genial and hard working pro and you can easily see why we from the Prince Albert Golf Club consider we have one of the best courses in Saskatchewan to be proud of.

To all competitors I wish you the best of luck, and to everybody may the golf be good and keen.

Yours Sincerely,

C. GEORGE KEALY, President Prince Albert Golf Club.

Our Popular Professional . . .

Our English born Pro has now been with the Prince Albert Golf Club for 36 years. Under his capable supervision the course has been changed from a nine-hole, sand green gopher pasture to a beautiful 18-hole course with almost full watering facilities. A great deal of credit must go to Hubert and his wife, Alice, for the unlimited efforts they have made on behalf of golfers in Prince Albert and district. Hubert has been taking time out from his hectic schedule for the past seven years to give free lessons to the youngsters on Saturday mornings, and Prince Albert now boasts a very active Junior Club. Hubert has also been very successful in organizing volunteer work parties among the members who have enjoyed taking an active, if somewhat strenuous part in the development of the course and buildings.

Prince Albert and the Saskatchewan Golf Association are justly proud of "Cookie" and his many and varied capabilities. Despite the unusually dry season to date, golfers will find the course in excellent shape and ready for an outstanding tournament.

SUGGESTIONS FROM LEADING GOLFERS ACROSS CANADA

TEE SHOTS

"Fullest possible arms extension is desired and maximum power. Hence the full pivot is necessary. Do not fear the transfer of weight to the right going back and to the left coming through. Don't rush the swing trying to get power. Let the speed accumulate gradually and naturally through the stroke. Check for a firm grip at the top of the swing and get firm on both feet through the hitting area. Note that I don't lock my knees at the top. Keep the legs flexed. I feel an unwinding action on the downswing from the legs and hips first followed by the club."

MIDDLE IRONS

"The No. 4, 5 and 6 irons are usually employed when aiming at the pin, not just the greens. You hit them down somewhat because you want the spin to make the ball hold. On these shots I "sit down" to the ball. These shots are a good full swing action, staying well over the ball. Body action is not so great and the arms and hands do the job more than on the longer clubs. I play these clubs from a centred address position."

PUTTING

"Putting is based upon confidence and confidence comes with assurance in one's fundamentals. I stand very upright, right shoulder tucked a little toward the hole to permit easy follow-through. The right hand is directing the club, but the sweep is free and easy with both hands."

Gallery Manners to Remember

Players Should Be Accorded Every Courtesy by Those Following the Play

Galleryites are reminded of the following simple rules for watching a golf tournament. These are tried-and-true:

Walk; never run.

Give the player plenty of room. Farther away people stay from competitors the more they can see.

Note: Photography should not be attempted until after a player completes a stroke. This is very important. Tournaments have been lost because a camera shutter has clicked at the wrong time or the "whi-r" of a camera has disturbed a competitor when putting.

Avoid clapping and otherwise showing approval unless merited. Do not make it obvious that you favor one player. Do not applaud just when another player is making his stroke.

Do not stand directly behind a player, unless well back.

Walk around greens; never across them.

Be silent when a player takes his stance and while he is making his stroke.

Do not shout: "Down in front."

If the gallery be large, kneel if you are in the front row.

Co-operate with the marshals.

In general treat the course as if it were your own, the players as you would like to be treated were you one of them.
